Students are required to take at least three courses at the 3000-level or above, and to take at least one course covering the period before the death of Alexander the Great in 323 BCE (i.e. on Bronze Age, Archaic or Classical Greek culture) and one class covering the period post-323 (i.e. on Hellenistic, Roman or Byzantine culture). Students are encouraged to take at least some courses in Greek and/or Latin, though this is not required. One course must yield a seminar paper whose minimum length is either 3000 words or 10 double-spaced pages in 12-point font, to be completed by the end of the first semester of your senior year and approved by the DUS. Please consult your advisor or the DUS for information on qualifying courses. Only classes passed with a C- or better may be applied to the major.
